LIQUOR SHIPMENTS

Into Dry Territory Is Legal Declares Court of Appeals

Heavy Blow Dealt Dry Propaganda in Kentucky

Frankfort, Ky., November 18.—The act of 1914, regulating the shipment of liquor into dry territory, repeals the act of 1906 prohibiting such shipments and "places the dealer within the state upon precisely the same footing before the law as the foreign dealer," that is "the act of 1914 makes intra-state shipments for personal use lawful," said the Court of Appeals this morning, in an opinion by Judge Miller, affirming the Kentucky Circuit Court in the case of the Adams Express Company against Crigler & Crigler Company.

The Crigler & Crigler Company secured a mandatory injunction requiring the express company to accept for transportation from Covington of eight quarts of whiskey consigned to F. M. McKee at Williamsburg. The court has held that the act of 1906 did not prohibit shipments from outside the state for personal use under the Webb-Kenyon law.

The act of 1914 was prepared by the Anti-Saloon League and Attorney General Garnett, who argued the Crigler case by permission, contended that it was intended to strengthen the prohibition as to the Webb-Kenyon law, but the court held the new and the old law inconsistent.

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

Paris, November 18.—Apparently the Germans are engaged in the most desperate of their recently repeated thrusts at the allied line in the vicinity of Ypres. For weeks the opposed armies on this front have been engaged in the most violent warfare and today's developments indicate that the Germans have finally recognized the necessity of a final attack in overwhelming numbers, which, whether it makes or breaks them, will at least give a definite result from which to compute further moves in the march on Calais and Dunkirk.

The cost of the war to England will be $2,250,000,000 for two years, according to the estimate presented to the House of Commons yesterday by David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer. To meet this vast expenditure the House of Commons approved an increase in the income tax, and a tax upon beer and tea. A war loan of $1,750,000,000 will be floated to make up the rest of the amount necessary. In his speech before the House the Chancellor intimated that the war would not be over soon.

In both Houses of Parliament eulogistic tributes were paid to the memory of Lord Roberts, whose body was taken to England yesterday from France. The funeral will not be until later in the week. Meanwhile the body will lie in state and will finally be placed in St. Paul's.

CRITICAL BATTLE OF CAMPAIGN RAGES NOW IN RUSSIAN POLAND.

Petrograd, November 18.—What is possibly the most critical battle yet fought on this side of the theater of war is at present progressing in the northwest corner of Russian Poland. So far no details of the course the struggle is taking have been divulged here. The last announcement of the general staff merely states that "the engagement between the Vistula and the Warthe has assumed the character of a big battle with considerable forces of the enemy."

WILL UNCLE SAM GET IN IT?

Washington, November 18.—Official dispatches to the War Department today show that the launch of the cruiser Tennessee was fired upon while proceeding from Vourla to Smyrna, Asia Minor.

The fight will take place during the last two weeks in March at some place to be chosen February 15. It is said that the battleground probably will be in Mexico.
